

The National Association of Broadcasters has absolutely no right what so ever to dictate to us the end users who pay for a service that we enjoy and look forward to listening to. Satellite radio is by far the best service in its class and outranks everything else out there.

Since I subscribed to XM radio last October '03 I have not listened to regular radio.

XM Radio must be allowed to continue, it is within our rights.

Congress and the FCC have more serious and bigger issues to concern themselves with the way of our world today
